READMISSION OF CHINESE MERCHANT

The Department of Commerce and Labor under date of July 26, gives the following decision of the readmission of a domiciled Chinese Merchant:

Department of Commerce and Labor, Office of the Secretary.

Washington, July 21, 1904.

Sir: Under cover of your letter of the 13th instant, No. 323-C, the Department has received the record on appeal in the case of Mar Yuen, an alleged domiciled merchant, No. 33 ex steamship Siberia, May 27, 1904, who was refused readmission by you July 6, on the following two grounds:

The evidence of the witnesses other than Chinese is quite insufficient to prove applicant's mercantile status for a year prior to his departure from the United States. Further than that, there is not sufficient evidence to prove that applicant was ever entitled to a mercantile status, inasmuch as he was not registered, and we have only his own word that he was a merchant during the period of registration.

The first cause for denial shown in the above quotation from your letter is remedied in the appeal by the submission of affidavits signed by two white citizens of El Paso, Tex. (the appellant's place of domicile), which affidavits are now attached to the record. The second reason for denial is not a good one, because there is nothing in the record to show that the appellant was not a merchant during the registration period, as is consistently claimed by him; and the record showing that he has been a merchant for at least six or eight years, the presumption arises, in the absence of evidence to the contrary, that he is testifying truthfully regarding his occupation during the registration period. If the case were being considered under the provisions of law relating to the expulsion of Chinese, the Chinaman having been found laboring in the United States without a certificate of residence, and having claimed that he did not register because a merchant during the registration period, then the Department believes that the presumption would be against him, as is contended by you. But this case arises under the excluding provisions of the law, which requires in the case of domiciled merchants that they shall establish by certain specified evidence that they were engaged as merchants for at least one year prior to their departure from the United States. This, in the opinion of the Department, the appellant has done, and he is therefore entitled to readmission to the United States, and so long as he engages in the pursuit of a merchant, to residence therein.

The appeal is accordingly sustained. Respectfully,

V. H. METCALF,

Commissioner of Immigration, San Francisco, Cal.
